The New York Tribune publishes part of a letter written by a soldier to the Cincinnati Commercial, and adds the comments of the Pittsburg Gazette, thus:

"The conduct of Buell, in suffering Col. Wilder to be overpowered and compelled to surrender, was quite as cowardly or treachchoose either term) as was the recent surrender of Harper's Ferry. The account given by the private soldier is in all essen-tial particulars in agreement with other accounts, including that of Colonel Wilder

"Bragg's expedition, from Alabama almost to the Ohio river, was not a campaign, but a raid. He did not come to fight, but to forage; yet he drove Buell, with his imarmy, before him 200 miles, without a gun being fired on either side. What intense contempt the rebels must feel for such an army! and how will such warfare appear in the eyes of the people of Europe, where the mysterious power of pro-slavery ism is not understood? The men who fought at Donelson and Shiloh will be stigmatized as poltroons, and all because of the atrocious conduct of one man; and yet that man has not been removed. Truly a West Point diploma can cover more sins than

With a disgusting class of scribblers, if a man fights a battle and loses it, the negro is the cause; if he doesn't fight, it's the negro again. Buell, like McClellan, has said nothing; he has made no explanations; and his enemies have said as much as if they knew a great deal. We shall say nothing about Buell's operations in Tennessee, because we have not the facts or the reason for them; except, we may add, that Buell, whilst he had a fine army, had all the corners to watch, and they were numerous His military superiors are, no doubt, well informed on the subject, and understand all about it. They know what Buell did, and his reasons for it, and, we presume, are satisfied with it.

If the Gazette will ask Colonel Wilder, he will hear why Buell could not get safely to his relief. It is utterly false that the Colonel's account reflects at all on General Buell. Only a part of Buell's army could possibly have reached Munfordville in time. They were not enough to meet the whole force of Bragg massed at Munford-

After the surrender, Bragg asked Wilder why Buell did not send forces to his relief? Wilder replied, that he supposed Buell would not divide his forces. I was in hopes he would, said Bragg.

is but the offspring of party mendacity.

Reason and argument, we must fairly admit, between the two belligerent parties in the present contest have come to an end. What political measures either adopts, outside of one question, are of very little immost certainly, gain the greater proportionate strength. The party which looks around for doubtful expedients, will, most turned to this side of the river. certainly, be to that extent weakened. Hazardous schemes, calculated as much to measures the cause is irretrievably lost, and if they are wrong in themselves, they are wholly without justification.

Upon this ground we wholly condemn Mr. Lincoln's proclamation. In no possible condition of affairs do we consider it justifiable. It is a revolutionary measure repugnant to the spirit and letter of the law and the principles of our people.

But aside from this it is objectionable. In the first place, upon its face it is unnecessary. Where the army is there is no need of it, and where the army is not it cannot be carried into effect. As to any necessity for it we consider the question absurd. By a draft the Government can get any force it asks, and it has already been compelled to resort to a draft. It was a tub, beyond a doubt, thrown to the Abolition whale, though an empty tub. If the object had been to induce that party which has stayed at home, speculated in contracts and blustered in Congress, to volunteer, the draft had already made their voluntary action unnecessary.

The evil to be feared from it is that it is different from the original programme of the war and is calculated to produce dissensions. The recent calm, advisory address of Gen. McClellan shows that it has already resulted in discussions in the army of the Potomac, and doubtless it has produced the same effect in other quarters. While we hope and believe that these discussions will not result in any serious injury, yet the very fact of McClellan's of his design. The enemy fired a volley as order shows an apprehension on his part the skirmishers, who by that time had formed that it may do harm.

Unity in action and policy is absolutely essential to success in military officers. When there are questions upon which there is serious disagreement, it is best to waive or ignore them altogether, and unite upon what all can unite upon.

An evil equal to the armies of rebellion against which we had to contend, is the wavering, uncertain policy of our Government. It has drifted, like a rudderless, sailless ship, between conservatism and radicalism, so that it was hard to determine for any fixed period what was its policy; and even now it is not certain. This has arisen from no want of honesty in the President, but from a lack of what would have made even a less able man a on the branch road. Capt. Wait immediatebetter President—a want of decision. From Sharpsburg. THE RECONNOISSANCE TO VARD MARTINS.

SHARPSBURG, MD., Thursday, Oct. 2. portance. It is a maked question of base, brute force. Week after week the question has been narrowing down to this point. The rebels continue to keep a strong picket-guard op-posite Williamsport, and during the attack of yesterday they received cavalry re-enforcements from that quarter. Our force yesterday consisted of the Eighth Illinois Cavalry, and three squadrons each of the Eighth Pennsylvania and Third Indiana. Gibson's United States Flying Artillery accompanied the expedi-tion and rendered valuable service. The entire force was under the command of Gen. Pleasanton, who has already dis-tinguished himself as a cavalry officer. Col. Farnsworth, of the Eighth Illinois, has been laboring for the past two or three days under temporary illness, consequently the command of that regiment develved upon Major Medill, an experienced and able officer. But two pieces of Gibson's battery pro-

The route taken was the main road from Shepherdstown to Martinsburg, a crossing having been effected over the Potomac at Blackburn's Ford. The enemy's videttes first made their appearance on the road, about one and a half miles from Shepherdstown. They made no opposition at that point, but commenced retiring, gathering up detached parties on the way, as our cavalry pushed torward in pursuit. The horses and equipments were sent back to camp. Upon the approach of our main force the enemy fled toward Martinsburg, where he received re-enforcements, and again made a stand half a mile beyond the town. Our cavalry advanced into the town, and, after remaining a short time, returned and took a position just outside its limits. Gibson then brought two pieces of artillery to bear, and, after firing a few rounds, the enemy fled towards Winchester. Our force did not continue the pursuit, but wheeled and moved back in the direction of Shepherds town, taking the same road upon which they advanced. Arriving at the junction of th main road with the road from Williamsport the Eighth Illinois, which was the rear guard, was attacked by a considerable force of the enemy, which was stationed en masse a few minutes the woods resounded with the report of carbines, and the crack of pistols. Bellicose Correspondence Between Pillow and Tilghman.

The following correspondence is published in the Mississippian of the 224 ult.: JACKSON, MISS., Sept. 21, 1862. Major-General Gideon Pillow, present:

It has been represented to me, through reliable sources, that at a gathering of the citizens at Clarksville, Tennessee, in Februan event, the case of Mr. King will be some-what analogous to that of Mr. J. Gurly, of reflecting upon me as a soldier and an officer, as connected with the defense of Fort Henry.

A proud consciousness of having performed my whole duty to my Government, rest under even a breath of censure. You will, therefore, be kind enough to state in writing, whether or not I am to consider your remarks made at Clarksville as intended to reflect upon my conduct as an officer or a soldier.

In reply, I state that at the time and place referred to, I made a few brief remarks, expressive of the conviction then upon my mind, that the works of Fort Hen-

PRESENT CONDITION OF THE CITY-DE. FENSES COMPLETED AND IN PROGRESS—THE FLOATING BATTERIES "GEORGIA" AND "FINGAL"—OBSTRUCTIONS IN THE RIVER— FEELING OF THE PEOPLE WITH REGARD TO THE WAR-PROBABLE EFFECT OF THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION, &c., &c.

Mr. A. G Spencer, formerly a merchant of this city, but for the last two years a resident of Savannah, Geo-gia, which place he left a week ago last friday, arrived here two days ago, in the United States trans-port George C Collins, and has kindly favored us with the following authentic in formation with regard to the present con-dition of affairs in that rebei city. The population of Savannah, usually about 25, 000, is at the present something less than 15,000, and business is almost at a stand still. Two out of five of the stores and other places of business are closed, and those renaining open have a very meagre steck of goods, and are doing next to nothing in the way of trade. The blockade of the city he onsiders almost perfect, and does not think it worth while for the Government to spend another cent to make it more effective. All manufactured and imported goods are extremely high, and scarcely to Ordinary boors bring $80 a pair, and $20 is charged for footing old Coats worth in New York $15, bring from $40 to $50, and pants from $20 to $25. Tea is worth $10 per pound, coffee 76 cents, butter $1, and other things in proportion. Flour is $42 a barrel, with a limited supply on hand, as the wheat crop of that region has proved almost a total failure.

The crop of corn, however, has been good this season, and it is now selling n'Savannah at 50 cents a bushel; though previous to the gathering of the new crop, it brought $2. There is great suffering among the poorer classes of the city, and their prospects for the future are daily growing worse, as the contributions of the wealthy for the support of the soldiers' families which were freely given at the beginning of the war, are now greatly diminished, from the inability of the contributors, and from the fact that many of them have been themselves forced into the army through the conscription act. The conscription has been very thorough, and almost every ablebodied man, from 18 to 35, is now in the army. The second conscription, which is to include all between the ages of 35 and 45, had not been enforced when Mr. Spen-cer left, but he thinks it will add one-third to the fighting force of the Confederacy, which he estimates at present to be about 400,000 effective men. The available troops in and about Sa vannah at the time he left he thinks did not exceed 3,000, but it was currently reported that the Confederate Governmen were about to station 40,000 soldiers in the Gen. Beauregard arrived at Savannah on the 18th of September, and formally took command of the defense of that city and Charleston on the 19th. Gen. Pemberton, who was previously in command at Savannah, was ordered to Richmand. Great preparations have been made and are now progress for the defense of Savannah and Mr. Spencer thinks if an attempt is made to capture the city by land it will require a strong force. Every road leading has been fortified for three or four miles in extent, and batteries have een erected on the south side of the river Fort Jackson. The high bluff in the city imits, where the gas works are located, has been mounted with eight cannons of the largest caliber. Besides these, a line of forcations is now being erected around the entire city, commencing on the river above the city and running round and intersecting the river below. Over 2,000 negroes

fense for the city. The Georgia is the only one yet completed, and this is generally adshe has thus far proved entirely unmanageiron, and would probably prove a formid-able obstacle to any craft coming within the range of her guns, however little damage she might be able to do as a ram, or acting on the offensive. She is one hundred feet in length, and is constructed pretty much on the same plan as the defunct Mer-rimac. The Fingal is not yet completed, but is to be finished in the same style as the Georgia. When Mr. Spencer left, they had got the roof on, but not the iron covering. She is an English built steamer which ran the blockade, and is being cut down to fit her for a battery. She will carry the same number of guns as the Georgia, and will. loubtless, prove a more manageable craft; but she is not built for a ram, and no fears need be entertained that she will repeat the exploits of the Merrimac.

With reference to the obstructions in the river, the Savannah people consider them impassable, but the United States officers at ort Royal and Fort Pulaski informed Mr. Spencer that they could easily be removed whenever the Government saw fit to com-

nence operations against the city. The feeling of the citizens of Savannah, with reference to the rebellion, Mr. Spencer represents as being nearly unanimous in favor of continuing the course they have begun, and of never yielding until they have gained their independence. Many of them openly declare that they would prefer becoming the subjects of a to a reunion with the National Government. Not a few openly avowed that they had meditated the movement for twenty years past, and that in the election of Linyears past, and that in the election of Lin-coln they saw their opportunity. The Northern men, of whom there are a great Unionist, left our front on Monday evening. many in Savannah, as well as all the South-ern cities, are mostly Union men at heart, succeeded in surprising and capturing fitbut they are obliged to disavow or at the best to conceal their sentiments. There is howwere found nicely stowed away in the house ever, nothing like the reign of terror visiting of a noted Secessionist, and dispersed Jew them at present, that there was at the be-ginning of the rebellion. With reference to the emancipation proclamation of the President, Mr. Spencer is of the opinion that it will prove to be impolitio. news of the proclamation had not reached Savannah when he left, but it had been long anticipated; and the repeated averments in Southern newspapers that the Federal Government intended to adopt such a measure has already, as he thinks, added 10,000 soldiers to the Confederate army. The Union men of the South, who have heretofore argued that the war on the tenance of the Government and the suprem acy of the Constitution and laws, will now be met with the remark: "There, I told you this was a war for the niggers!" and result would be that every man would be forced to take sides with the South. This advantage to the Union cause he thinks will not be counterbalanced, as many who favor the measure anticipate, by any efforts on the part of the negroes themselves cal alated to strengthen the arm of the National Government or weaken that of its enemies. He deems the idea absurd that the mass of plantation negroes in the interior will, in consequence of this be induced to strike a blow for their own freedom, or in fact that they will ever hear of the proclamation. Movement from Helena. Our well-informed and vigilant correpondent at Helena told our readers, a week or two ago, that an important expedition was fitting out at that place, and that it would be heard from in due season. It appears from dispatches via Cairo, that the evement has taken place, though the military authorities have not deemed it prudent to let its destination be known at present. Conjecture is, therefore, rife as to the point whereat the contemplated blow s to be struck. It is not probable that Gen. Steele has been ordered to Tennessee, to assist in de-molishing Van Dorn and Price, as Roseerans, Ord and Hurlbut appear to be quite competent to do that unassisted. The nation must be either Little Rock or Vicksborg, and excellent reasons might be given for supposing either place to be the one Our last reports from the Arkansas Capital, placed about fifteen thousand rebel troops there, under Gen. Holmes, and it is probable that some of these have been detached to re-enforce Cooper, Rains and Parsons, on our Southwest berder. The possession of Little Rock and the Arkansas river would be a great acquisition for operations in the rear of the enemy, now threatening Missouri. On the other hand, Vicksburg presents, at this time, a shining mark. exigencies of Van Dorn's situation have probably left a very small garrison at that place, which can be easily defeated, and the river opened-a thing that is vastly needed. We suppose the town could be for-tified before Van Dorn could get back with his whipped army from the vicinity of Corinth, and perhaps General Steele might be of much service in retarding the escape of at intervals all the way from the city to the rebels from Rosecrans, should the latter pursue them into Mississippi. Stirring news, in any case, may, we think, be looked for from Steele's within a few days, if not immediately .- St. Louis Rep., 8th.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. The Times' dispatch has the following: President Lincoln's emancipation proclama tion has inspired the most lively terror throughout the South. The rebels do not laugh at the decree, but quake with apprehension. Strong efforts are being made by certain citizens of Minnesota for the appointment of Senator Rice as Major General of Volunteers, and the assignment to him of the Department now occupied by Major General Pope. It is urged that his knowledge of that country, and the habits of the Indians, will enable him to act with greater efficiency in putting an end to the existing

It is also said that General Pope is acting with more vigor than prudence, and likely to make the indignation of a few hundred savages, as in the case of Florida, a war productive of immense cost to the nation. The intelligent and reliable correspond-

The other half would vote to send Commissioners to Rich-mond, or welcome propositions from the rebels for winding up the struggle rather than drag through another winter cam-paign in the swamps of the Chickahominy, or in any other part of Virginia; but give them the word forward, and with the needful leaders, and re-enforcements, they will not stop until they have chased the rebels into the gulf. There is nothing the soldiers so much dread as this eternal delay, and the prospect of an indefinite prolongation of the war. Let us whip or get whipped, and have an end of it, is the language of every man I meet and talk with on the subject The officers who are worth a copwould say the same thing if they possessed the independence of those in the ranks, and would speak their mind.

I mention these things not willingly, but for the purpose of showing the temper of the army and the absolute necessity of keeping their energies employed and their minds easy.

The same correspondent states that the rebels made their appearance in small force opposite this place for the evident purpose of showing themselves. They were mounted and numbered 200 or less. As they seemed anxious to attract attention a section of a Parrott battery was brought up and a few shells were sent after them across the river. Of course they made tracks.

The Examiner says Congress has serious business on its hands at present. The subject of revenue and finance is now before Congress. The bill provides that every citizen give to the Government one-fifth of his gross income, and receive in acknowledgment eight per cent. bonds. Of all loans eight per cent. is the worst; of all taxes, twenty per cent. on gross income is the most oppressive. By this project Congress strikes a heavier blow at our credit than the public enemy. The Government has committed financial blenders enough to ruin its credit, if the confidence of the public was not so well supported. Congress has postponed adjournment till October 18th.

The necessary repairs were not extensive, consisting merely in the replacement of portions of her coppering, and the repairing of that part of the keel known as the "shoe." The gunboat Daylight (16 guns) will probably go on the dock after the Augusta has been repaired. This vessel recently broke her shaft, after leaving New York and put into this port in distress. She will sail as soon as the injury is remedied.

Her ventilation is not as good as it should be, and the vessel wants finishing in some parts. A shot from the Merrimac, an "11-inch solid Dahlgren," knocked off a portion of the edge plating near the bow. She greatly needs cleaning and oiling up in every part, and in view of all this, and the fact that the Young Merrimac is not coming down from Richmond come to Washington to rest her officers and crew, and obtain some repairs. The turree of the Monitor was severely tested by the Merrimac and the guns at Drury's Bluff, but she seems to be perfectly invulnerable to any ordnance now used by mankind.'

ALMOST A. FATAL MISTAKE .- On Tuesday night Captain Voorhies, with his construction train, arrived at Bagdad, having on board one company of infantry. A report reached Shelbyville the same night to the effect that a lot of rebels had possession of the train, when three companies of cavalry, from General Dumont's division, were sent over, and reached the place about three o'clock Wednesday morning. They immediately fired on the infantry pickets, when some fifteen or twenty shots were exchanged on both sides before the mistake was discovered. The passenger train on the Louisville and Lexington railroad, in charge of Capt. Oldham Taylor, which left this city yesterday morning, went up as far as North Benson, where the railroad bridge was burned, nine miles this side of Frankfort, and returned in the evening, crowded with passengers. From Capt. Taylor, the old and efficient conductor, we learn the following particulars concerning the re-occupation of Frankfort, by our forces: Day before yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, the rebel pickets, of Scott's cavalry, made their appearance, in small squads, around the town, peeping over stone fences, hiding behind trees, and creeping up slowly until they finally ventured to enter the place. > FILTHY STREETS .- What has become of the street inspectors? The condition of our streets is horrible. It would puzzle Coleridge to count the stenches that attack the nostrils in every part of the city. Happy is he who has lost the olfactory nerve. Such a one may enjoy his dinner, but no other can. The state of the streets cannot but have an injurious effect upon the health, as well as upon the decency and morality

What has become of the Mayor, whose perform their duty? What has become of the street committee of the council? Have they all been knocked down and rendered money cannot be the cause of this disgraceful condition of things; for, according to the auditor's report, the city treasury contained, on the first day of October, $71,-692 04.

Since the battle of Antietam, it has been several times stated that Gen. Longstreet was carried into Martinsburg from the field severely wounded. It is now said very positively that he died in that town a few days since, at the house of Mr. Faulkner, of the wounds received in the battle. So many fugitives from Martinsburg agree in this announcement that it seems entitled to more credit than the usual stories of the demise of distinguished rebels.

A Brisk Fight at Perryville.

Bragg's Army Repulsed by McCook and Rousseau.

Our Loss 2,000 Killed and Wounded

General James S. Jackson Killed.

From dispatches received in the city las night, we have news, this morning, of considerable importance-news of heavy fighting, and of large numbers killed and

Day before yesterday, near Perryville, Boyle county, Bragg's entire force, or nearly so, made a furious attack upon a portion of McCook's command and Rousseau's (late Mitchell's) division. For some hours the fighting was desperate in the extreme, on both sides-for a portion of the time it was a hand-to-hand encounter. Bragg's forces, as nearly . his entire army was in the field, were superior in number to ours, notwithstanding this advantage, but. the rebels were repulsed with terrible slaughter. The rebel losses had not been ascertained at the time this news was forwarded from the battle-field, but it was known to be much heavier than ours. Some of the best served batteries in the army are in McCook's corps, and Rousseau's overcoats, negligie shirts, gauntlets, under-division. Our losses are stated as high as wear, &c., for sale very low. Also usual 2,000 in killed and wounded. Amongst member of Congress from this State, one of the bravest and most determined fighters in the army. Among the wounded is Gen.

Terrell, of Va., formerly in command of Terrell's battery, but now commanding a brigade of infantry; also, Col. George Webster, of the 98th Ohio, in command of the 34th brigade; also, General Sheridan, of Michigan. The firing ceased about 7 o'clock in the evening, but was expected to be resumed again yesterday morning, unless Bragg should take advantage of the darkness to escape from the perilous position he occupied. McCook was heavily reinforced Wedduty it is to see that the street inspectors nesday night, by one or more of Crittenden's the army since the commencement of the divisions coming up.

Bragg's position is said to have been north of Perryville, and the dispatches received lifeless by the powerful smells? Want of indicate the determination on the part of Gen. Buell to renew the fight on yesterday morning, with greatly increased forces, and make it a general engagement.

As Perryville is some thirty-four or thirty-five miles from Bardstown, the nearest telegraphic station, news of yesterday's transactions will reach us sometime to-day. We have no doubt that Bragg would make an effort in the hight to escape from the net which was closing around him, but if he did, his escape would be stopped before reaching Crab Orchard-perhaps at Stanford. We confidently expect to-day to hear good news.

The news from Frankfort is to the effect that General Dumont arrived from Shelbyville, at three o'clock, yesterday morning, surprised the rebel forces, by making such fifteen wounded, and several of their wounded were carried away in the dark. One of them was seriously burned, another Our loss was three killed, none wounded six hundred cavalry, and two regiments of infantry. They were driven out of the town, and General Dumont, at last accounts was in hot pursuit.

THE CONCERT .- There was a very large and fashionable audience at Masonic Temple last night. At first the audience was rather cold and unsympathetic, but as the beauties of the programme were opened out, and the unmistakable abilities of the Misses De Roode made themselves manifest, the audience warmed up more and more, till before the close of the concert there was almost enthusiasm in the anplause bestowed. This we consider the strongest evidence of the superior talents of these young ladies, that an audience, almost utter strangers, cold and unsympathetic, should be warmed into enthusiasm in the course of a short concert, is, we take it, an undeniable and powerful tribute of appreciation. The singing of Miss Maria was not only truly artistic, but as too seldom is the fact, was in exquisite taste, genie's performances on the piano were worthy of the first masters, and stamped her in the estimation of her audience, as one of the finest artistes of the age. Messrs. Zoller, Whipple, and Boutwell fully sustained the reputation they have already

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE

No. 428 Main st., bet. Bullitt & Fifth sts NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, Nos. 112 and 114 Broadway, N. Y.

Ten Year Plan-Non-Forfeiture (Originated by this Company.)

General Agent......E. W. TROTTER, Local Agents......WM. S. VERNON & SONS.

The New York LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY has been now in operation seventeen years, and has accumulated a capital of $2,200,000. Its dividends have never been less than 30 por cent. on the premiums paid, and it has disbursed to widows and orphans over $4,30,000. It has deposited with the Comphans over $4,30,000. It has deposited with the Comphans over $4,30,000. It has deposited with the Comphan secure Policy Holders, $100,000, and its Trustees in New York city are of the very first and reliable names. The affairs of the Company show a lively property, and each successive year, this great society, arter disbursing some Two to Three Hunder Housands of Dollars, are adding to their Capital the like amount.

In accordance with the requirements of the charter, the funds of the company are invested in stocks created by or under the laws of the State of New York, or of the United States, or on unincumbered Redi Estate, worth fifty per cent. more than the amount loaned thereon.

worth fifty per cent. more than the amount loaned thereon.

TEN YEAR PLAN—NON-FORFEITURE—Originated by the New York Lips Insurance Company. By the table on which this class of policies is based, it would seen that a person incurs no risk in taking out a policy. Insuring to-day for $5,000 if he dies to-morrow the five thousand immediately becomes a claim, and if he lives ton years, and makes ten annual payneents, his policy is paid up; nothing more to pay, and still his dividends continue, making his life policy a source of income to him while living. The principal argument of weight offered against life insurance his that a party might pay in for a number of years, and then by inadvertence, inability, &c., not be able to continue paying, and then loose all he has paid. The New York Life Insurance Company has done much to obviate this objection by the Ten Year Plan and Non-Forfsiture. A party by this table, cannot forfeit what has been paid in. Thus, if one insuring by this plan for $5,000 discontinues after the second year, the company will give him a paid up policy, according to the number of years paid in, view.

And so on to the tenth payment, when all is paid and

Reports of Affairs in Virginia from Returned Prisoners.

Rumored Changes Without Foundation.

Affairs in Florida.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. Capt. F. G. Young, direct from Richmond. arrived to-day, having left there Tuesday, by a flag of truce, down the James river. He, with Maj. Barney, of New York, was captured on the 21st of September, while on a horseback tour in the vicinity of Bull a horseback tour in the vicinity of Bull Run, by the Thirtieth Virginia cavalry, under Col. Sebanks, a graduate of West

The prisoners spent four days pleasantly on the way to Richmond, and were treated kindly and hospitably by their captors, and by all whom they met on their route. The cavalry rigiment of Col. Chambers was handsomely mounted and uniformed, and fully equipped. There appeared to be plenty of salt, flour, fresh beef, and shoes among the soldiers; and good discipline prevailed. They treated each other great kindness and courtesy. No whisky drinking or card playing. Much comment is made by the rebel troops as to the careless manner in which our dead were buried on the plains of Manasses All the rebel soldiers denounce General Pope, but speak in the most complimentary terms of McClellan. The country districts are exhausted of food for man and beast, and in consequence apprehension exists of great distress among the people. During the coming winter every-body has plenty of paper money of all descriptions and denominations.

The treatment of Federal prisoners, Capitol Drug Store, opp. Postoffice, the Sibley prison, has been changed for for the better and those confined with Capt. for the better and those connned with Capt. Young, had no cause to complain—he with thirty others were put in a large room and were attended by the guards and servants with marked kindness—rations were served regularly and a sutler constantly present. The morning newspapers were served at

There is no lack of arms, and they have more cannon than can be used. The general impression among them is that the war will not end until the expiration of Lincoln's term of service. Everybody, however, is sick of hos-tilities, and the troops desire to return to their homes, yet one constantly hears the remark, "You may exterminate us, but you cannot subjugate us."

The new Merrimac is not yet finished. Officers' Dress and Fatigue Suits

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.

The Persia arrived at New York at 4 o'clock. Among her passengers is Townsend Harris, Minister to Japan.

The Army and Navy Gazette says the Confederate invasion of Maryland, if latest telegrams prove true, has proved a failure. Pope's army was badly beaten, but not placed hors du combat. McClellan has showed a decided flash of soldier-like spirit in marching resolutely upon the lines of retreat open to the Confederates.

The Times insinuates that McClellan's reports may have been cooked at Washington. Other announcements of decided suc-cess have ultimately proved incorrect, and Europe has been driven into incredulity or reservation of its belief; at any rate, it argues, victories in the field, without change of policy, will be very barren suc-

Propositions to conciliate the Pope and the Italian government proved nnacceptable at Rome.

The Times, although the Emperor elaborately proves that the French ought to leave Rome, says no one supposes he has the slightest intention of doing so. Prof. Partridge officially reports of Garibaldi, that he progresses favorably, and, with attention for some months, a cure will be effected, and he will have a good serviceable foot and leg.

says a dispatch was received at Paris to the effect that Gen. McClellan, after the battles, retreated upon Washington.
The Daily News says that McClellan's troops have proved to be like British soldiers-not knowing when they are beaten; and states that Gen. McClellan has shown enterprise and good generalship, and his men great valor.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9. The Bulletin says the Savannah account of the action at St. Johns river, Florida, is explained by a gentleman who left our squadron there less than a fortnight ago. The gunboats Daniel Jones, Cymerone, Sihago and others, under Commander Steadman, were then preparing for an expedition up the St. Johns river to recapture Jacksonville. A land force of 1,500 men, with a field battery of rifled guns was to take part. The enemy had constructed fortifications on St. John's Bluff, fifty or or sixty feet high, under which our gunboats have to pass. As the channel is closed to us, it is probable that this bat-tery on the lat was shelled by the gunboats, simply to occupy the enemy, while troops were landed at Greenville Point, to march on the enemy's works from the rear

Geo. S. Boutwell received the nomination for Congress by 112 votes against 36 for Wm Claffin. Ex-Governor Boutwell's nom-

J. H. MONTGOMERY'S TAILORING AND DYEING ESTABLISHMENT.

No. 316 Jefferson st., bet. Third & Fourth, North Side W HERE THE ABOVE NAMED WORK IS DONE in a style that surpasses anything west of the mountains. He does his work in a beautiful style that none but a trusty mechanic can do, and as this is taking that economy is requisite, send your clothes along and have them cleansed and well dyed, and in so doing he certain that you send them to the right place, as there is a great deal of work sent to me from my customers that others take in and say, "this is Montgomery's," There are some botches who know they would get but little to do, to go on their own merit. I have on hand a beautiful assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres on hand a beautiful assortment of Cioths, Cassimeres and Vestings, of the latest styles, that I make up at prices to suit the times. Ladies, send your dresses, habits, &c., along and have them beautifully closured. Embrace the opportunity of having your work well done. If not, you will regret!
